

Playing Colloidal Mikado workshop

16-17 November 2016 CNRS-CRPP Bordeaux

The 4th Playing Colloidal Mikado Workshop on the topic of rod-like liquid crystals in and out of equilibrium will be held in Bordeaux, France at CNRS from 16-17 November 2016 under the auspices of the DiStruc network. The three previous workshops were held in Oxford (2009), Luxembourg (2010), and Eindhoven (2016).

The workshops aim to bring together active researchers interested in the area of colloidal rods to discuss current research, results, and problems of experimental, theoretical and computational aspects. We are looking forward to an exciting workshop and seeing you in Bordeaux!

Invited speakers

Zvonimir Dogic Brandeis University

Jacques Prost Institut Curie

Samuel Poincloux École Normale Supérieure

Tanja Schilling University of Luxembourg

Thomas Gibaud École Normale Supérieure de Lyon

Albert Schenning Eindhoven University of Technology

Jean-Christophe Loudet Centre de Recherche Paul Pascal

Baeckkyoung Sung Centre de Recherche Paul Pascal

Thomas Bickel Laboratoire Ondes et Matière d'Aquitaine

Registration fee

15 € not including meals

60 € including lunch and dinner

Contact

c.lang@fz-juelich.de

More info

<http://distruc.eu>

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Grant Agreement No 641839

